The Cantorum Choir was formed in late 1981 from musicians living in the area, and it rehearses in Cookham Dean. Since formation the choir has presented seven concerts of varying scale and repertoire not only in Cookham Dean, but also in Burnham, Maidenhead and Marlow. The choir is very pleased to be appearing in the Cookham Festival, which is also their first public appearance in Cookham, and indeed their first presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan.

The choir's next concert will also be in Cookham, at Holy Trinity Church, on Saturday October 22nd. This concert is on behalf of the Friends of the Stanley Spencer Gallery, and the choir will sing church music by Vaughan Williams, Bach, Stanford, Finzi and Parry.
